WAR WIDOWS.
Commissioner Evans sat at his desk the other day figuring on pensions as they concern generations yet unborn. The declaration of independence is 121 years old. The country is still discharging its debt of gratitude in the material form of pensions toward the men who fought for it. Of course, there are no surviving soldiers of the revolution. There are, however, surviving widows. The commissioner was speculating on what that fact has to do with the future of the present pension list. He has now upon his roll of monthly recipients 933,628 names. Before the end of the current year the grand army of pensioners will pass the 1,000,000 mark. It is a fair deduction that ninety years hence the government of the United States will still be paying pensions for the civil war of 1861-65.
The army of George Washington was a squad composed of the 2,000,000 and more enrolled in the North to crush secession. It suffered privations calculated to test vitality, but the widows of those patriots of Valley Forge are still drawing pensions. Unless the twentieth century women differ very much from the nineteenth century women there will be a roll of honor in the year 1987 of quite respectable proportions. Pensioners conduce to matrimony. A fixed income which can be transmitted after death as an estate has its bearing on the question of marriage.
"Suppose," suggested the commissioner, with his sheet of figures before him, "fourteen years to be the lowest limit of age for a soldier in the revolution of 1776. A soldier of that age would have been thirty-eight years old in 1800. Now, the youngest of our revolutionary widows on the pension list is eighty-three. She was born in 1814. At the date of her birth the youngest of the revolutionary soldiers was fifty-two. If he married this woman when she was eighteen he was seventy. There you have the age conditions of matrimony not all unreasonable or unusual. Reasoning from what has proven true regarding pensioners, the commissioner has no doubt that during several years to come girl babies will be born to the destiny of becoming the widows of the veterans of 1865, and of drawing pensions. If there are ten revolutionary widows on the roll now there may be 1,000 civil war widows in 1986. This is possible without taking into account the fact that the world is learning how to live longer. The ranks of the old soldiers' widows are not. Nearly one-fourth of the 933,628 names now on the roll are widows. To be exact, the widows at present receiving pensions number 228,522. The proportion is increasing steadily. Soon one-third of the pensions will go to widows. A few years later the widows will outnumber the veterans. The time will come when the widows will exceed the old soldiers in such numerical relation as they do for the war of 1812. There are seven survivors of 1912 on the roll, and there are 2810 pensioned widows of that war. The Indian wars were fought from 1832 to 1842, from fifty-five to sixty-five years ago. The pensioned veterans of those Indian wars number 2373 and the widows 4288. The Mexican war widows do not quite equal the veterans. They number 8072, while the male pensioners of that war, fought fifty years ago, are 10,923.
Of the Union soldiers who participated in the civil war the number now pensioned is 741,141. Unless additional laws are passed this number of civil war veterans will not grow much. The deaths are about 35,000 a year. The new applicants admitted to the roll, with the greatest diligence the pension bureau can bestow, will not long maintain the present strength of pensioned veterans. But the widows will grow in numbers for many years to come.

A Valuable Prescription.
Editor Morrison of the Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a Bottle at E. L. Allen's Drug Store.
For Over Fifty Years.
AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children's teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Beware and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind. Jan17 c&w17

CHILDREN'S LIGHT WEIGHT

FINE RIBBED HOSE

SEPTEMBER 1ST received all sizes of this pattern hose for children. The rib is exceedingly be-utiful and the texture of the cloth durable. We shall continue to keep a full line of sizes from 5 to 9½ during the next two months. Price 25c.

Intermediate Weight

UNDERWEAR.

We have received several cases of heavy Woolen Underwear for winter trade, but cannot think of asking buyers to dress in these heavy garments. We supply the present want with a light weight woolen, about two numbers heavier than the summer wear. This will protect the body from all sudden changes in the weather or during fall months. All our heavy woolen purchases were made in the month of May and the new tariff bill will not familiarize itself with the new warm protectors received later on.

C. M. ADAMS.

American Lady Corsets

The demand for this Corset is greater than all other makes combined offered in this city. They fit, wear and retain their shape longer than many prominent makes extensively advertised at enormously high prices with no merit. Comfort is the great secret of this Corset. If you want an ill fitting Corset that will keep the shadow of insanity dancing before the optic nerve, buy one with the word "seconds" stamped thereon. After wearing one of these killing machines for about a week, life will seem a failure, suicide a thought.

DRY GOODS.

Auction Bargain Sale.

You get this week the benefit of our great purchase of Dry Goods and Notions at the auction sale of Messrs. Wm. F. Biedler & Co., of Baltimore. These goods were sold by Grojan, Lobe & Co., auctioneers. D. Bendheim & Sons were among the largest purchasers there. Not a dollar's worth of this stock had they expected to buy when our representative entered the large warehouse of the above firm, No. 12 west Howard street, where the sale was in progress; but you had just as well try to change the course of the great Potomac river as to try to prevent D. Bendheim & Sons from buying goods when they are being slaughtered at prices from 40 to 50c on the dollar. The bargain advertised below will convince you of what D. Bendheim & Sons mean by low prices.

Buy all the Flannels you will need at this sale, as prices will be much higher later.

All-wool White Flannel worth 18c, auction price 12½c.

All-wool White Flannel, worth 25c, from the Biedler sale at 16c.

Gilbert's 40c fine White Flannel, from the Biedler sale at 25c.

but wages and the price of PLANTATION CIGARS.

The new tariff bill has increased the price of all kinds of tobacco, both foreign and domestic, but with our usual foresight we have on hand an immense stock and propose to give our friends the benefit of our success by holding our favorite at its old price and assuring them that the stock will not deteriorate. A good name should always be backed up with good stock, and that is just what we are doing.

FREDERICK GLEASON CORNING, 35 Wall Street, New York City.

This company has been formed to explore, develop and co a mining, mercantile and financial business in the gold fields of the Yukon Valley. In addition to its valuable mines, it will own and operate its own steamers to ply between the ocean and Dawson City, and, with abundant capital, be prepared to secure advantageous terms as traders in furnishing supplies to the various mining camps and in acquiring new mining properties.
It has purchased from Mr. A. E. IRONMONGER SOLA, of Dawson City, North West Territory, who has consented to act as managing Director in Alaska, his entire interests in his gold placers, aggregating 750 feet on Bonanza Creek and 250 feet on Last Chance Creek; also his real estate holdings, for warehouse and dock purposes on the river front, and other city lots in Dawson City.
Mr. A. E. IRONMONGER SOLA has been several years in the Yukon country, being engaged as freighter, trader and miner, and is among the few men familiar with the necessities and advantages of the Klondike gold fields.
The mines are now being worked under the direction of the company's superintendent, Mr. EARL CRUTCHER, and under the new arrangement, at $1 with the help that will be required, an output of $20,000 per week is a reasonable expectation. Hence, while other companies are arranging exploration and prospecting parties to locate claims in Alaska next year, this corporation is producing bullion on its own property.
Of the $5,000,000 Capital Stock of the Company, $2,000,000 will be set aside for the development and purchase of additional properties.
